This cemetery has only about six head stones remaining. Many stones have been removed over the years. Apparently a teen age party back in the 50 or 60's resulted in many stones being taken to Moon Mountain and beat to pieces. Family and friends have tried in recent years to preserve what is left. Robert "Lee" Stewart, who owned the Exxon station on Eight Street in Huntington, put up a highway guard rail to prevent someone from parking in the cemetery. His grandfather, William Martin Stewart is buried here. Unfortunately, when Lee died in 1989 parties removed the guard rail and continued using the cemetery for parking and turning.

Stella Clay and her sister, Virgie (Smith) Harris, has helped to reconstruct this cemetery. With the help of these two ladies, daughters of Cora (Ward) Clay Smith, obituaries and other family members, the above represents a partial listing of those buried here. There is suppose to be several babies from local families buried here.

Harrison Daniel Stewart was in Co K 8 Regt VA Cav. Confederate Army during the Civil War. His grave is marked with a military stone. His youngest brother Thomas Harvey Stewart b ca 1843 was in the 8th Virginia Cavalry and was killed in Maryland 7/14/1864. Harrison also had three brother that fought for the North: Henry Washington Stewart, William Stewart, Jr. and Charles Alvin Stewart.

Hi Wiley,

Nice to hear from you - it's been a while. I may be able to offer a little bit in the way of firming up some of our Jarrell sources. I'd certainly like to help - you've certainly done lots over the years, and I'd like to kick in a little if I can.

I've spent some of my genealogy "fun time" over the last few years looking for sources to shore up some of the data that I've collected over the last 27 years. One of the big helps to that effort has been the availability of West Virginia, Kentucky and Missouri death certificates on line (my Thompson ancestors left West Virginia and settled in Missouri). I've untangled quite a few family lines using these records.

As to Vashti Jarrell (daughter of Benjamin Harrison Jarrell and Dorcas Maynard) I can offer the following:

1. Hannah (Jarrell) See - (1864-1942)

Hannah is Vashti's daughter and the wife of David Garred See. On Hannah's Kentucky State death certificate, her mother's name is given as Vashti Jarrell.

2. Millard J. Wilson (1883-1943)

Millard is Vashti's son. On Millard's Kentucky State death certificate, his mother's name is given as Vashti Jarrell.

3. Melissa (Jarrell) Miller (1866-1916)

Melissa is Vashti's daughter, and was married to unknown MILLER. On Melissa's Kentucky State death certificate, her mother's name is given as Vashti Jarrell.

All three of the above individuals gave their father's name as Mordicai Wilson.

I think that gives pretty good evidence for Vashti. I'll look at what I have for Rachel and forward that also.

Would you like copies of any of the above death certificates? They're available on Ancestry.com but I don't know if you have access to that. I could download them and send them if that would be helpful.
